TRANSPORTATION.

EUROPEAN IMMIGRATION
TO THE
CANADAS & WESTERN STATES!
—BY—
Train & Co's Line.

ENOCH TRAIN & CO., Proprietors of the Boston and Liverpool Line of Packets, hereby give notice that they have made extensive arrangements with the Western Rail Road Corporations, in connection with the Rail Roads in the Western States and Steamboats on the Lakes, for the forwarding of pre-paid passengers from Boston to the Canadas and Western States; and are now selling at their office in Boston, and at their authorized agencies, pre paid certificates of passage as follows:

From Liverpool to Boston, $18 00
" " Albany, N. Y., 18 00
" " Buffalo, 22 00
" " Kingston, C. W. 22 50
" " Columbus, O., 24 00

Boston, to the destination agreed upon.

In addition to any provisions which the passengers may themselves bring, the following quantities, at least, of water and provisions will be supplied to each steerage passenger of twelve years of age and over, every week during the passage, commencing on the day of sailing, and at least three quarts of water per day:

Two oz. of Tea; 8 oz. of Sugar; 5 lbs. of Oatmeal; 2½ lbs navy bread; 1 lb. wheat flour; 2 lbs rice.

Children under twelve years of age (not including infants,) are furnished with six pounds of bread stuffs per week, the usual allowance of water, and half allowance of Tea and Sugar.

As soon as our Liverpool House informs us per steamer of the names of pre-paid passengers embarked, we publish their names in the Boston Pilot, and also notify each purchaser of pre-paid certificates, either directly or through our agents.

On the arrival of any of our ships in the outer harbor, we immediately dispatch an agent on board, to give prepaid passengers the necessary instructions regarding their route westward.

Bedding and utensils for eating and drinking, must be provided by passengers; and those going to the Canadas, or Western States, must furnish their own provisions from Boston.

TRAIN & CO., of Boston, inform those who take an interest in the welfare of Immigrants, that as OWNERS of the ONLY LIVERPOOL and BOSTON LINE of PACKETS, they have determined that their Immigration business shall be conducted in their own name, on their own responsibility, and by themselves or their immediate servants.

In calling public attention to the subjoined list of the Ships which compose our Boston Line of Packets, we believe that its general reputation as the first of American Lines is sufficiently well known and established. The Thousands of Letters which have been sent by American Immigrants to their friends in every part of Europe, have borne ample testimony to the rapid and successful passages made by these Ships, and to the superior Health, Comfort and Safety which their Passengers have hitherto enjoyed. Many of them will be recognized as vessels which have gained the very highest character, by a succession of unusual rapid passages.

Packet Ships which are dispatched in this LINE:

STAR OF EMPIRE,	Capt. BROWN,
WESTERN STAR,	" THAYER,
FRANK PIERCE,	" MARCY,
PRESIDENT,	" CUMMINGS,
CHARIOT OF FAME,	" KNOWLES,
STAFFORDSHIRE,	" RICHARDSON,
PARLIAMENT,	" SAMPSON,
NORTH AMERICA,	" DUNBAR,
DANL WEBSTER,	" HOWARD,
PLYMOUTH ROCK,	" CALDWELL,
SUNBEAM,	" PUTNAM,
LEVI WOODBURY,	" NICKERSON,

These Ships, when in the Line, sail from Boston on the 5th of each month, and from Liverpool each week during the year, and are distinguished by a Red Flag with a White Diamond.

Train & Co., Merchants, 5 India Buildings, Water St., Liverpool, Eng.
Train & Co., Passage Office, Nos. 118 & 119, Waterloo Road, Liverpool, Eng.
Train & Co. No. 121 St. Patrick Street, Cork, Ireland.

These magnificent Ships are ALL AMERICAN BUILT and constructed expressly for Packets. They are all NEW and of the FIRST Class, being built on the most improved principles and of the best materials. They possess all the modern improvements which conduce to health and comfort, as a superior system of lighting and ventilating, the very best Provisions, and a careful medical superintendence.

The Captains have been carefully selected as first-rate sailors and men of humanity, and an experienced Surgeon is attached to each Ship, and no expense is spared to render this the best and most popular conveyance to America. As Train & Co. have made such arrangements in Liverpool as will PROTECT their friends from the frauds and impositions sometimes practiced there, they believe that those who pre-pay passages cannot but see the advantage of being able to engage with a Respectable House, on favorable terms, for a well known Line of Magnificent Packet ships, and in this way avoid the disrespect, annoyance and delay which they so often experience, when they engage with Agents who are but slightly connected with transient Ships.

As a proof that their Immigration business is conducted on principles uniformly Honorable and Humane, and that they have been distinguished for the most exact fulfilment of all their engagements, we are permitted to refer to the very Rev. THEOBALD MATHEW, Cork, Ireland.

We also subjoin the following testimonial from the Right Reverend JOHN BERNARD FITZPATRICK, D. D., Bishop, Cathedral, Boston.

(COPY.)

Boston, January 22d, 1849.

"I am happy to testify, from personal knowledge, that the firm of Ship Owners, known in this City of Boston, under the name of ENOCH TRAIN & CO., is composed of gentlemen of tried and acknowledged integrity, and that implicit reliance can be placed in their fidelity to accomplish all that they may promise, to those who may have occasion to make any contract with them.

(signed) † JOHN B. FITZPATRICK,
Bishop of Boston.

MILWAUKEE MUTUAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
Office 185 East Water Street.

Capital over $185,000—in Cash and Premium Notes.

THIS Company offers unrivalled facilities for the insurance of Buildings and Personal Property against fire. The advantages offered, are security beyond the reach of circumstances, as the real estate insured is by law bound for the assessment made to cover losses beyond the power of evasion. Every person insured is a member of the Company, and entitled to one vote. The cost of insurance does not exceed one-third as much as in Stock Companies, saying nothing of the increased security and the incomparable ease with which losses are settled. During the last five years, this Company have issued 2500 Policies, and made but three assessments at a cost to the property insured, not exceeding two mills on the dollar. Its business is principally confined to this State.

GROCERIES! GROCERIES!!
At Wholesale,
103 & 105, East Water Street.
P. W. BADGELY & CO.,

ARE RECEIVING their SPRING STOCK, purchased East, which, added to their large receipts of

Sugar and Molasses,

from New Orleans, render their Stock desirable for Cash buyers to examine before making their purchases. It is our object to have, at all times, a stock that will show favorably with any similar stock in the West. Will hold ourselves ready to duplicate any Retail Dealers' purchases East, adding necessary expenses.

MR. BADGLEY'S long experience in the Jobbing Grocery Business in New York, enables us to buy our Stock as well as most Jobbing Houses in New York—insuring to our Customers a FULL EQUALITY with those who purchase in New York; in fact, BETTER—as we purchase full half of our stock South and West, at far better rates than we can East.

ALL ORDERS entrusted to us will receive the same attention as if present.

OUR STOCK, in part, consists as follows:—
150 Hhds, various grades, SUGARS.
290 Bbls MOLASSES.

A large supply of LAMP OIL.
500 Boxes SARDINES.

INVISIBLE VENTILATING HEADS OF HAIR.

GENTLEMEN AND LADIES rest heads of Hair or invisible WIGS. The principle upon which the Wigs are made is far superior to every thing yet produced. The Manufacturer invites the honor of a visit from the sceptic and the connoisseur that the one may be convinced and the other gratified, by inspecting this and other novel and beautiful specimens of the Perruquelan Art, at

J. GRAY'S, 17 Wisconsin street.

J. GRAY'S infallible mode of measuring the head:—No. 1, round head; No. 2, from ear to ear across the head; No. 3, from temple to temple, measuring across the crown of the head; No. 4, from the forehead to the nap, or as low down as the hair grows.

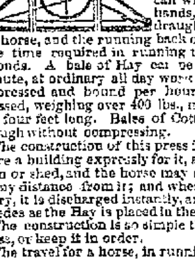
HAY PRESS.



THE IMPROVED PATENT LEVER RAILWAY PRESS EXCELS all others now in use for pressing Hay, Cotton, Hemp, Wool, Hops, Rags, &c. &c., and will be warranted to perform well and do double the work that any other press can with the same number of hands, with less than half the draught; a small boy can attend the horse, and the running back of the follower with ease. The time required in running up the follower, is fifteen seconds. A bale of Hay can be pressed in less than one minute, at ordinary all day work: seven or eight bales can be pressed and bound per hour. Bales of Hay can be pressed, weighing over 400 lbs., measuring two feet square and four feet long. Bales of Cotton can be made compact enough without compressing.

The construction of this press is such that it does not require a building expressly for it, as it may be placed in any barn or shed, and the horse may move in any direction, or at any distance from it; and when the bale is ready for delivery, it is discharged instantly, and the follower gradually recedes as the Hay is placed in the box.

The construction is so simple that any man can make a Press, or keep it in order.

The travel for a horse, in running up a bale, is fifty feet, while in a screw press, the travel is one mile and a half, in running the screw up and down. I have three new Presses now in operation, either of which can be furnished to order at a cost of about $100 each, or a model to build by if prefered.

REPORT OF THE PREMIUM COMMITTEE OF THE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY OF NEW-YORK.

"The Lever Railway, Hay and Cotton Press, is a machine combining great power, convenience of operation, and constructed on true philosophical principles, and is a great desideratum to the river counties, and all places near contiguous to market, and also to cotton and hop growers; and the Committee think they do not exaggerate when they say it is, in their opinion, the perfection of machinery for that purpose. The Committee therefore award a premium of $5."

The Press, with the right to use it, can be purchased at less than half the cost of any other Press now in use. For rights for a single Press, or Towns, Counties and States, application should be made to the subscriber.

OLUME X. MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL. NEW

Milwaukee Daily Sentinel.

MONDAY MORNING, JAN. 2, 1854.

Rufus King, Wm. H. Watson & John S. Fillmore
PROPRIETORS
UNDER THE NAME AND FIRM OF
RUFUS KING & CO.

NOTICE TO BUSINESS MEN.

The circulation of the DAILY SENTINEL is by far the LARGEST of any daily paper published in the State; and presents greater advantages to Merchants, Mechanics and Artisans, as a medium of Advertising.

All Advertisements appear in the Tri-Weekly Sentinel, without additional charge.

The Weekly Sentinel has now a circulation of over two thousand copies, which is constantly and rapidly increasing Advertisements put in the Weekly at the same rates as in the Daily.

Price of the Daily $6,00, of the Tri-Weekly $3,00 and of the Weekly $1,00 per year, payable in advance.

NO PAPER TO-MORROW.—This being the day set apart for welcoming the New Year, it will be scrupulously observed as a Holiday by all hands in the Sentinel Office, and consequently no paper will be issued to-morrow morning.

CARRIERS' ADDRESS.—Our Carriers will wait upon the patrons of the Sentinel, this morning, with a New Years' Address from the graceful pen of our correspondent, "Porte Crayon." As they have been diligent in serving our subscribers, during the past year, we hope that they will be kindly remembered on New Years' day.

The New Year.

Another year has gone to rest. EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-THREE, with all its hopes and disappointments, its joys and sorrows, its successes and reverses, belongs to the irrevocable past. We have now to do with EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR, and we can offer no better wish for our City and State, than that the year upon which we have just entered may prove in all respects as fortunate as that which has so recently closed.—The cordial greeting which springs to every lip and salutes all ears to-day, renders the advent of the New Year emphatically the season of good will among men. To-day, acquaintances nearly forgotten and friendship grown rusty, are renewed and brightened. To-day, envy, hatred and all uncharitableness are by common consent dismissed from thought, and peace, good feeling, and neighborly kindness hold undisputed sway. New Year's Day, indeed, is the "good time" come, when the spirit of the season dissolves the ice of man's selfish nature, and each sees in his neighbor "a man and a brother." Would that this "good time" were of longer continuance! Would that the kindly feelings to which this day gives birth ended only with the year that is, to be renewed in the first hours of the year that is to come.

We should indeed be ungrateful to the numerous and increasing patrons of the Sentinel, if we failed to express our acknowledgments for their past favors and generous support, or to tender our best wishes for their future health, prosperity and happiness. The tie which unites the editor of a daily journal with his readers, strengthens and brightens with the lapse of years. This is the ninth occasion on which it has been our privilege to offer to the readers of the Sentinel the wish, appropriate to the Season, of a "Happy New Year," and assuredly the sincerity of that wish loses nothing by repetition. We tender it again today with earnest and heartfelt gratitude to our friends and patrons, for the substantial encouragement they have given us in the past, and with renewed assurances on our part of striving to deserve the continuance and increase of their friendly favors. And we invoke upon them, as upon all, the blessings and protection of Almighty God, in the work of their hands and the business of their calling, throughout the coming year.

The War in the East.

The details of the Pacific's news, brought by Friday's mails, will be found in our columns this morning. The particulars of the naval action on the Black Sea were not fully known at the date of her departure from Liverpool, but the main features are included in the summary of the news. The later advices by the Africa have apprised us that the first account, put forth by the Russians, was grossly exaggerated; and that the loss was much larger on their side and much less on the Turkish, than at first represented. The effect of the news upon the English press and people may be readily inferred from the following paragraph in the leader of the London Times:

> The effect this event will have in Europe is not less serious. It dispels the hopes we have been led to entertain of pacification, for we cannot share the opinion that this success will lower in any degree the temper or pretentions of Russia; and it imposes upon the allied fleets more peremptory duties. Indeed, as this blow on the naval resources of Turkey interrupts her communications with Trebizond and Batun, it is highly injurious to her Asiatic army, and all would be lost if the command of the Black Sea were suffered to pass into the hands of the enemy. The British Government and its allies will have, from the moment this intelligence is confirmed, to deal with a state of affairs far more decided and momentous than any which this question had yet assumed; and we earnestly trust that the cabinet will prove itself equal to the emergency. It scarcely devolves, indeed, on the Ministers of the Crown now to determine what positive steps are to be taken under these circumstances; for we cannot doubt that after such an act of aggressive war, committed upon a State under the shelter of the united flags of France and England, the Embassadors and Admirals at Constantinople have resolved at once upon the measures required.

The Dunnan Monument.

Our friend of the Madison Journal seems determined to be the death of the monument project, though there is a sort of hint that its erection at the capital might allay all scruples. The latest phase of opposition comes to us in the shape of a lugubrious article, representing the sister of the murdered boy as "a servant girl in Milwaukee, growing up in ignorance, without friends, doomed to battle with the world alone, &c." The article is well-written, and ought not to be lost. We copy a portion:

> The mock sympathy that, "slowly wise and meanly just," builds monuments to departed worth, and ignores living merit, has no tears for her. Her lot is with those who are compelled to perform the greatest amount of labor for the least remuneration. Those who are lauding the virtues of her murdered brother, would scarcely condescend to eat at the same table with her. The costly but unavailing marble is to be reared to the memory of one; the other is left to penury and hopeless toil. What will be her emotions as she passes by that splendid monument, if by chance she may escape for a few hours on some Sunday afternoon from the menial services in which she has been condemned to pass her life, and above which she has no hope of ever rising? She is below the reach of that elegant sympathy which is composed of starch, silks, costly furs, broadcloths, &c.

Our sympathising friends of the Journal will make haste to express their pleasure at finding that one of Emanuel's sisters is comfortably cared for in an excellent family in our city, while the other is happily situated as the adopted child of one of the "solid men" of Johnstown, Rock County.

WHO'S HIT?—The Chicago Democrat, in common with other papers of that city, copies with great glee the woful communication of "a sufferer," from the Detroit Tribune, protesting against the steam ferry ship between this port and Grand Haven, and pronounces it "a hard hit at the 'Quixotic' attempt of the city of Bricks to 'bridge Lake Michigan.'" From the fluttering among our Chicago contemporaries, we should say that not only the Tribune's communication but every other allusion to the "Steam-Ferry," was a very hard hit indeed.

☞ DAVID MCKEE, assistant clerk of the last Assembly, will, it is said, be a candidate for Secretary of the State Senate at the ensuing session.—If successful, he will make an efficient officer.—We have not, as yet, seen any name of candidates for clerk of Assembly.

☞ The first freight over the Great Western (Canada) road, was received at Detroit on Thursday last. It consisted of two tons of Oysters, fresh from the "beds" of New Haven, for Rowe & Co.

☞ We are glad to learn from the Chicago Journal of Friday, that our friend R. L. WILSON who has been seriously ill, is now convalescent.

RAILROAD MEETING IN FOND DU LAC CO.—Mr. Kneeland, President of the M. F. du L. & G. B. R. R. Co., is now on a tour through portions of Fond du Lac Co., endeavoring to wake up the people to a proper interest in the completion of the road. A meeting was held in the town of Ashford on the 22d ult, which was addressed by Mr. Kneeland and others, and a committee appointed, Mr. Longstreet chairman, to report resolutions. The following were reported and unanimously adopted:

Resolutions—Whereas, being fully satisfied by the practical workings of Rail Roads in all parts of the world, that they are eminently in accordance with the upward, onward and progressive spirit of the age, alone calculated to afford the proper and required facilities of internal transit to the products of all branches of our varied enterprise and industry, binding in common bonds of union and brotherhood our wide-spread and growing country.

Resolved, That we hail with no ordinary feelings of satisfaction and delight the construction of the Milwaukee, Fond du Lac and Green Bay Rail Road through this section of our state.

Resolved, that being fully satisfied of the utility of this enterprise in a pecuniary point of view, that it will be one of the best paying roads of any of the many now projected in our state, and having full confidence in the ability, honesty, and integrity of the company, we will in all proper and honorable ways, aid, assist, and co-operate with the company in carrying out to successful completion, this most desirable work.

On motion, Resolved, that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Fond du Lac and Milwaukee papers.

The meeting then adjourned sine die.

POST-MASTER AT MENASHA.—We learn from the last Menasha Advocate, that its editor and publisher, JERRY CROWLEY, formerly of this city, has been appointed Postmaster, in place of E. F. O'CONNELL, resigned. The Advocate "welcomes the coming, speeds the parting guest"—that is, it compliments the out-going P. M. as a faithful and efficient officer, "and although a regular whig," entirely acceptable to the Menasha people; while it "has no hesitation in pronouncing" Mr. CROWLEY'S appointment as "a first rate" one. We think as much. Our friend CROWLEY, however, is by no means satisfied with being publisher, editor and postmaster. He is also foreman of the new Hook and Ladder Company in Menasha. Notwithstanding these manifold occupations, JERRY is about; as witness this "hit" at his neighbor of the Appleton Crescent:

> The Appleton Crescent is rich, as usual, in nonsense. It says many queer things, and we will try to give a synopsis of them:
>
> In the first place, Major Ryan says that we have been "harping upon his daughter." Now, we deny this in toto, as this is the first time we ever heard of the Major's having one.
>
> The Crescent also states that an attempt is being made to oust Col. Mooers from the office of Receiver at this place. This is news to us, and we rather think there is nothing in it. We presume, however, that the Major's object is to flatter the Colonel, and raise another gold pen out of him. But you can't come it, SAM! The Colonel is too old a bird to be caught doing that trick twice.

☞ BRIDGET HALEY, wife of Thomas Haley, came from County Clare, Ireland, five years ago last June. When last heard from, she lived with a Mr. Brunswick, or some person of similar name, somewhere in Wisconsin. She wrote to her mother, Catharine Halpin, who had remained in Ireland, sending her funds to pay her passage, &c., to this country. Unfortunately, the vessel in which Mrs. Halpin embarked was cast away on the passage, and Mrs. H. lost her little all, together with her daughter's letter. She is thus left, not only entirely destitute, but without any certain direction whereby she can find her daughter.

N. B.—Publishers of newspapers in Wisconsin and Illinois, will confer a great favor on a poor, unfortunate woman by giving this notice an insertion in their respective papers.

Mrs. Alderman Bray, or Mrs. Delafield, of Milwaukee, will inform where Mrs. Halpin is staying.

BLACKWOOD FOR DECEMBER.—We are indebted to LEONARD SCOTT & Co, 79 Fulton St., N. Y., for an early copy of their republication of Blackwood for December. The following is the list of contents:

4. University Reform.
5. Rapping the Question—a tale of Modern Magic.
6. Real and Ideal Beauty.

Blackwood needs no praise. It is the best monthly published in the language, and is sent to subscribers for $3,00 a year.

FIRST OF JANUARY—NO MORE PRAIRIE CHICKENS!—Farmers, Hunters, Poulterers and all others will do well to bear in mind the fact that by the laws of this State it is a finable offence to kill, trap, take, or have any Prairie Chickens after this date, or any Quails or Partridges after the first of next month. The design of the law is to prevent the extermination of these birds. With "fair play" they will always be abundant in this State, and it is for the interest of all parties that the Law should be rigidly enforced.

THE AUSTRALIAN GOLD MINES.—The Steamship Pacific, which arrived at New-York on Monday last, brought accounts from Melbourne to the close of September. The yield from the Victoria mines averaged a million of dollars per week.—The Balarat diggings, the first discovered, were still the richest. Immigration continued to be large; the arrivals being in the proportion of 5 to 1 of departures. A single steamer had brought to London $3,660,000 in gold.

SMALL BILL LAW.—The law, imposing a penalty of not less than Five Dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars, for passing any bill issued by any Bank out of this State, of a less denomination than Five Dollars, and making all contracts void in which such bills form part of the consideration, goes into effect to-day. We have no idea that the law will be observed, or enforced, but it is well to know its provisions and penalty.

HEAVY PORK.—The Ripon Herald of Dec. 28th says:

> Skeels & Sumner, bought at this place last week, a lot of three hogs weighing 1541, or an average of 514 each. They were raised by one of our subscribers, residing about 4 miles west of this village.
>
> The Pork brought into our market, thus far this winter is the finest we ever saw, and the average weight much above that of last year.

LA CROSSE & MILWAUKEE R. R.—The La Crosse Rail Road!—it is likely to become a verity soon; it is surveyed quite through from Portage City: settlers are taking up the lands on the route.—Stevens P. Pinery.

We learn from Mr. VLIET, Engineer on this road, that such is the interest felt in La Crosse in its completion to the Mississippi, that the citizens of that small place have taken no less than $150,000 of stock. It is bound to go ahead.

NEW LOCOMOTIVE.—The Hudson River Railroad brought out a splendid locomotive last week called the Huron and on her trial trip, it is said, she made 43 miles in 36 minutes.—Buffalo Express.

This is doubtless one of the two engines built under a contract to take the Express trains through from N. Y. to Albany at the rate of 75 miles an hour.

☞ Our wide-awake neighbor, the News, is intent upon maintaining its character for publishing exclusive intelligence. In its Saturday's issue it informed the public and the Boston Courier "that at this moment, in Wisconsin, Whiggery and Abolitionism are identical." No other paper has this news, or is likely to get it.

☞ The $8,000 left to the President by Senator Atherton was not for his own personal use, but as a fund in trust to be expended in Washington city for certain purposes. The sealed letter to the President mentioned in the will, directs the disposition of the funds.

TAYCHEEDAH AND GREEN BAY PLANEROAD.—The last Fond du Lac Union announces that contracts for completing, within 12 months, 24 miles of this road, have just been let, which, with the 17 miles previously under contract, leaves but 11 miles to finish the whole.

THE NAVAL ENGAGEMENT IN THE BLACK SEA.

We have from the New York papers, the following particulars relative to, and remarks of European papers upon, the late naval battle in the Black Sea. The N. Y. Tribune, after speaking of the feeling entertained that the blow is a very disastrous one to the Turks, says:

> We are happy to be able to contradict these impressions and to allay these excessive apprehensions. The battle at Sinope was comparatively insignificant, though as far as our imperfect intelligence can clear up the facts, it was gallantly contested on both sides. It was fought, not between the numerous and powerful Turkish fleet of the Black Sea, and a corresponding number of Russian ships, but between a Turkish squadron of three frigates, and two little steamers, with some small transports, and a force of six sail of the line, twelve frigates and some smaller vessels, commanded by Vice Admiral Nachimoff, the oldest Russian Commander on that sea. The Turkish Admiral Osman Pasha was proceeding up the coast, conveying men and stores to Batun for the Turkish army in Asia, when he was met by the enemy's fleet off Sinope, a place on the southern shore, just in that part where the Sea is narrowest, with the Russian naval station of Sebastapol nearly opposite on the northern shore, the distance between the two places being about 170 miles. It seems that the main action took place in the harbor, where Osman Pasha endeavored to find refuge from the superior force of Nachimoff. So desperate was the fighting that the Russians, according to their own account, carried away only one prize, the flag-ship of the squadron, and she sunk before they reached Sebastopol. All the other vessels were destroyed, we are told, except one, which made good its escape. At the same time the Russian fleet was so damaged in the fight that some of its craft had serious difficulty in making port. Such are the facts, as they appear from the best statements at our command.

We invite attention to the following summary, which contains all of the material facts and speculations brought by the London papers:

THE SEAT OF WAR.—The following telegraphic despatch was received from Vienna, dated on the evening of December 16:

On the 30th Nov., six Russian ships of the line, under Admiral Machinoff, attacked a Turkish squadron at Sinope, and notwithstanding the violent fire of the land batteries in the roads, in an hour and a half completely destroyed seven Turkish frigates, one steam frigate, two schooners, and three transport ships.

An attempt was made to take the Turkish flag ship, with Osman Pasha on board, to Sebastopol, but as she began to sink while at sea, Osman Pasha and the crew were taken on board the Russian ships.

The Russian flagship had suffered so much that it could hardly reach Sebastopol.

A despatch from Odessa of the 5th inst., which reached Paris by way of Vienna, confirms the above intelligence, without giving further details. The number of Turkish vessels captured or sunk is quoted at 12.

Prince Menchikeff immediately left Odessa for St. Petersburgh, to communicate the news of the victory to the Emperor.

The Times, however, speaks doubtingly of the reliability of this report. It says that it was received from its correspondent at Vienna, and was no doubt by him deemed authentic, but adds that "until it is confirmed we are not inclined to place implicit reliance upon it." And further:

The latest intelligence from Constantinople, via Marseilles, is to the 26th ult., and at that date the Turkish squadron, which had entered the Black Sea, contrary to the advice of the British Ambassador, had returned in safety to the Bosphorus without having encountered any portion of the Russian fleet.

It is, of course, possible that it may have again put to sea, or that another squadron may be referred to.

In an editorial on the following day, December 13, the Times somewhat modifies its language, and says:—

> It must be remarked that great perplexity and uncertainty still hang over the details of this important event. All the accounts received of it appear to have been despatched from Odessa on the 5th inst., and to have passed through Vienna.—They are, therefore, altogether Russian statements. On the other hand, it is well ascertained that on the 28th November, two days prior to the action, the principal divisions of the Turkish fleet were at anchor in the Bosphorus. Admiral Slade had brought back his division some days before, with the exception of one frigate, which had taken shelter at Sinope, and great satisfaction had been expressed that at this inclement season of the year the line of battle ships and frigates were safe in harbor.
>
> It would seem probable, therefore, that the squadron which the Russians have demolished was a convoy bound with troops and arms for some point on the coast of Asia; and the most probable version of the story seems to be that the Russian cruisers pursued this convoy into the roads of Sinope.
>
> It has been suggested that, as Sinope is a naval arsenal, it is possible that some of the vessels destroyed by the Russians were hulks in the port, Sinope is the best harbor on the coast of Asia Minor, situated about three hundred miles from the Bosphorus, and at the narrowest part of the Black Sea, being only 42 maritime leagues from Sebastopol.
>
> The town of Sinope is built on the isthmus of a peninsula jutting out into the Euxine, and forming two capacious harbors. That to the South-east is used by the Turks as a naval station.
>
> The town is a square; flanked with towers, and covered by a small citadel; but, in spite of the importance of the place, it has long been considered the most vulnerable point on the whole North coast of Asia Minor.
>
> The land batteries, whatever they may be, appear to have been quite incompetent to meet the fire of the ships, and this engagement furnishes another example of the comparative weakness of ordinary fortifications when opposed to modern naval gunnery.
>
> Among the Turkish forts there are scarcely any strong enough to beat off a line-of battle ship.—However, after the destruction of no less than 12 Turkish vessels, without taking a single prize in a state to be removed to Sebastopol, the Russian ships themselves were in a condition to reach that harbor with difficulty.
>
> The havoc which is described to have taken place, shows that the ships on both sides were fought with great gallantry; and the Russians, who first surprised every one by allowing themselves to be beaten on land, have now surprised us again by an exploit at sea.
>
> They had, however, by their own account, a vast superiority of force, and Osman Bey, the Turkish commander, only surrendered at the last extremity.

The Globe, published on the evening of the 13th, has the following, dated Vienna, Dec. 12:

The larger Turkish vessel which were destroyed had each 390 soldiers besides artillerymen, on board, and a large sum of money, being bound for the East coast of the Black Sea. A fourteenth vessel escaped undamaged.

"The battle began at an hour's distance from Sinope.

"On the 2d nothing was known of the defeat at Constantinople.

"The Turks were successful in Asia."

The Globe adds:

"It would appear likely from this that the force attacked was that which left Constantinople on the 26th for Batoum, and which had on board 5,000 men as reinforcements for the Asiatic army.

"The theory of probabilities would also seem to warrant the assumption that the Turkish commander, on being attacked, made for Sinope to land his troops—whether he succeeded in doing so before his vessels were destroyed remains to be seen.

The Paris correspondent of the Times says:

"Another private despatch, but which requires confirmation, mentions that the Russians lost in the affair at Sinope two ships of the line, three frigates and two steamboats and it adds that their force consisted of twelve frigates, a brig and five steamboats, besides the six ships of the line, as mentioned in the Moniteur."

No accounts had been received at Constantinople from Danube. The entire portion of Wallachia is covered with water, which renders it impossible for the Russians to make any movement. Kalafat, fortified by a garrison of 30,000 men, was regarded as impregnable.

A private despatch mentions that the Turks have obtained some important advantages over the Russians in the neighborhood of Teflis.

Constantinople, Nov. 28.

Reinforcements were sent to the army of Anatolia the day before yesterday to the number of 5,000 men.

The tempestuous character of the weather has for the present suspended naval operations in the Black Sea. The two divisions of the Turco-Egyptian squadron is now at Buyukdere. The French and English fleets are still at Baycos, in the Bosphorus.

The European and Turkish artillery officers have just completed the fortifications of the Ottoman coast of the Black Sea. It is now guarded by 250 heavy guns, well placed to command the sea and forbid the approach of ships of war.

The Sultan maintains his resolve not to enter upon the path of negotiation while his territory remains violated.

Notwithstanding the war, commerce is active; 322 vessels have entered, and 517 left Constantinople in the course of the last week.

The Turkish passenger steamer, Medari Tidjaret, which was captured by Russian cruisers in the Black Sea several days ago, came into the Bosphorus on the 29th, and caused great astonishment.

The vessel was taken before the expiration of the delay granted on both sides for placing merchant ships out of danger. As there were several Russian merchantmen at Constantinople when the Medari Tidjaret was captured, the Russians were unusually scrupulous in dealing with her.

Lord Stratford de Radcliffe has removed from Therapia to Pera, to be nearer the French Ambassador.

A column of the new legion of Turkish Cossacks had arrived at Constantinople; 8000 volunteer Scodriens have been organized in Albania, and a new corps of 10,000 Kurds has been formed by the sheiks of their country.

Bucharest, Nov. 30.

The Russians are pushing their troops forward on the road to Kalafat. The Turks are still engaged in fortifying that place.

On the 26th a Russian major was killed in a skirmish near Giurgevo.

The Turks are still holding the Island of Mokan.

Arif Effendi has told Baron Buol that the Porte consented to the neutrality of Servia.

Austria, and, it is said, Russia likewise, have instructed the Vladika of Montenegro to observe the strictest neutrality.

BURNING OF THE GREAT REPUBLIC.

The N. Y. Tribune gives the following account of the burning of the ship Great Republic on Monday last:

> The sparks were so thick in the vicinity as to assume the appearance of raining fire. The streets and docks along the East River were literally alive with burning coals. The pier at the foot of Dover st. was at one time covered to the depth of some inches with cinders, and the rigging and masts of the numerous vessels lying in the stream were completely enveloped in flying sparks. The seamen and others strenuously exerted themselves to prevent the canvass from igniting, but in most instances the high wind rendered their efforts useless.
>
> About 1½ o'clock the rigging of the stupendous new ship Great Republic took fire. Owing to the immense height of her masts it was impossible for the engines to play upon the flames, and the consequence was that the falling spars soon set her deck in a blaze. At 3 o'clock her foremast fell, knocking her mainyard out of the slings, and shortly after the mainmast came down across the deck. Her mizzenmast followed, carrying with it her spankermast. The vessel was now a perfect wreck, being one mass of flame abaft the mainmast.
>
> From the Great Republic the fire communicated to the ship Joseph Walker, lying in the same slip, and in a short time her upper works were enveloped in flames. She belonged to the Black Star Line, and may be considered a total loss.
>
> The clipper-ship White Squall, lying next to the Great Republic, caught fire in the rigging, and was soon in a blaze from stem to stern.
>
> She was towed into the stream by one of the Fulton Ferry boats, and drifted up the river opposite the Navy Yard, where she burned to the water's edge.
>
> In addition to the above, several other vessels—mostly schooners and sloops—had their spars and rigging burned. The majority of them, however, escaped total destruction by slipping their cables and drawing out into the stream.
>
> The following is a list of the cargo on board the Great Republic—
>
> | | |
> |---|---|
> | 896 tcs of Beef. | 1,023 bales of Cotton. |
> | 97 tcs of Lard. | 639 boxes of Tea. |
> | 56 bbls of Lard. | 4,046 bbls of Rosin. |
> | 22,406 bush of Wheat. | 14 hhds of Tobacco. |
> | 33,500 bush of Corn. | 70 casks of Argols. |
> | 6,650 bbls of Flour. | 867 pcs. staple and Cedar Wood |
>
> The entire cargo was valued at $250,000.
>
> The vessel was valued at $175,000 and the freight at $100,000. Of this sum $240,000 was insured in this City, $20,000 in Philadelphia, $20,000 in Boston, and perhaps some further sums.
>
> The ship may be considered a total loss, and the whole cargo either totally destroyed, or badly damaged.
>
> The Williamsburgh and Fulton Ferry boats were employed for several hours in towing such ships as could be moved into the river, thus preventing a larger amount of damage to the shipping lying in this part of the City.
>
> The bells rang a general alarm, bringing to the ground nearly all the Fire Department of New York. Notwithstanding the cold state of the atmosphere the firemen labored with great energy, and only ceased to rest when the flames were subdued and no further danger from the devouring element to be apprehended.
>
> The amount of Insurance on the cargo of the Great Republic could not be exactly ascertained, All was got by the owners that could be; but New-York officer had taken so much upon the ship, that latterly they declined risks upon the freight.
>
> The falling of the mainmast of the ship Great Republic upset a small boat containing four firemen belonging to a Hook and Ladder Company. Several men in boats immediately put out from the shore and succeeded in rescuing from drowning the unfortunate firemen.

FURTHER FROM ERIE.

The Buffalo Express, after giving an account of the shooting at Erie, says:

> This proceeding, we apprehend, will bring these difficulties to a crisis. The Erie people, rumor says, are preparing to visit the railroad company with their vengeance. The company is prepared, and will take care of itself and its property from this moment. The popular feeling of indignation is so strong that they will not long need aid, but have enough, if necessary, to sweep the infected district of every outlaw who now disgraces it.

The Courier has the following further particulars;

> After the Conductor had taken refuge in the car, a report obtained credence among the mob outside that Mr. Superintendent Dennis was aboard (which was true) and that he shot the man Nelson. They immediately demanded that he should deliver himself up, which he, accustomed to obey mandates only in a legal way, refused to do without they would show their papers, at the same time assuring them that he did not shoot the man, and that he had no arms. He offered to allow them to search him, but the crowd were determined to have him by force. One of the employers on the train ran forward to the engine while the disturbance was going on, and gave instructions to the Engineer. The cars were then uncoupled, and Mr. Dennis and party, including an Erie Justice of the Peace and one or two other officials, came on to the State Line. The engine was then run back, taking all who wished to go, and, connecting with the remainder of the train, brought them on, after so much delay.
>
> Before the train left, all the Erie military companies with Gen. Kilpatrick at their head and the cannon at their tail, with the Sheriff and Mayor and half the citizens of Erie, came rushing to the spot. Between 1500 and 2000 persons were present, all in a highly excited state. The Mayor addressed them with such inflammatory appeals that the Sheriff stopped him. The bridge at Harbor Creek which had just been re-built for the third time, and the last stroke made upon it in the forenoon, was torn down for the fourth time, the track was torn up again and the ties burned.—Timber is now being procured, preparatory to rebuilding the bridge again, though of what use the labor is, we are at a loss to see.
>
> The passengers complain in unstinted terms of the abominable proceedings had, declaring that it is not safe for one of them even to express his opinion among the mob. Every thing along the line of the Road is thrown into confusion, there being no regular time for the arrival or departure of trains, and, as a matter of course, there is some pretty tall and profuse swearing, and a common feeling of indignation is expressed. At present the interruptions are as bad as ever. Mob Law has triumphed again and reigns complete!

Correspondence of the Journal of Commerce.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Dec. 23d.

A report was received to-day in the House, from the Postmaster-General, with the estimates for appropriations for those mail steamers that are properly under his control—to wit, the Bremen and Southampton, and the New Orleans and Vera Cruz, Charleston and Savannah lines. These embrace the regular and ordinary appropriations for that service. This report was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

As to the Collins line the Committee on Ways and Means have agreed to provide in the regular mail steamer appropriation bill, when they report the same, for a notice to the proprietor of the Collins line, of the discontinuance of the extra compensation to that line. The notice must, by law, be given after the 30th December, and six months prior to the date of the termination of the allowance. It is not, however, to be taken for granted that the House will adopt the proposition of the Committee.

A bill has been unanimously reported from the Committee on Patents of the House, for the relief of Samuel Colt, by the extension of his parent for a new and useful improvement in fire arms for seven years, reserving to the Government of the United States, the right to make and manufacture the arms in all of their own armories, for military and naval purposes.

Citizens of Erie Fleeing for their Lives.

John A. Tracy, President of the E. & N. E. Road, John L. Tracy, Superintendent of the same road, John A. Walker, Director and Attorney of the said Road, Mr. Hart, ticket agent at Erie, Miles W. Caughey, deputy U. S. Marshal, are in this city, having been obliged to leave Erie to save their property and the lives of themselves and families from the fury of the mob. All these gentlemen are old and respected citizens of Erie, have summered and wintered in that city, and now by the entreaties of their families have fled to avert the murderous knife and incendiary torch.—Cleveland Herald.

RUN AWAY.—A spirited team, attached to a waggon, the property of Mr. George THROOP, of this city, ranaway to-day. Mr. T. was driving the team himself, and was, we regret to say, thrown upon the ground with such force as to seriously injure his head, and otherwise badly bruise him. The horses, we understand, have frequently ran away before.—Sheboygan Journal.

POLICE COURT—Dec. 31.

Henry Palmer was brought up on the complaint of Hugh McGrady, charged with having threatened to kill said complainant; upon examination the court required the defendant to recognize in the sum of $250 to keep the peace. He gave the bail, paid the costs and was discharged.

H. Schmidt was brought up on the charge of assault and battery, alledged to have been committed upon the person of Thomas Cantrell. A material witness for the prosecution being absent, the case was continued to Saturday next for trial.

United States Court.

The regular January term of the U. S. District Court, Judge MILLER presiding, commences in our City at 11 o'clock this morning. We learn that the Calendar is a heavy one, embracing nearly two hundred cases, most of them litigated ones. It will no doubt be the most important session of the U. S. Court, yet held here.

"JANUARY AND JUNE, BEING OUT DOOR THINKINGS AND FIRESIDE MUSINGS, BY BENJ. F. TAYLOR. Illustrated. Published by SAMUEL HUESTON, 139 Nassau St. N. Y., and A. H. & C. BURLEY, Chicago.

This volume has been for some time upon our table, but somehow has missed its turn for a notice, until just as the New Year comes in. Not by any means because we have not deemed it worthy of a notice. Quite otherwise, for, as we have learned by taking more time for its perusal than we usually are able to bestow upon new publications, it is one of the most charming books with which we have been favored this many a day. Our readers are no strangers to the author, Mr. Taylor, for we have often, before his removal to New York and during his connection with the Chicago Journal, copied his pleasant, homelike, hearty sketches into our columns.

If we had room, we should be glad to fill a column now with extracts from the collection before us, as a New Year's feast for our readers, but must limit ourselves to the following, from the writers pleasant chat about music and the old tunes, heard in childhood, which linger in the memory while life lasts:

> "Auld Lang Syne"—here it is, glittering with the dews of its native heather—sung last night in a hovel, sung this morning in a hall "When shall we meet again?" Within one little year how many lips have asked—how many knells have answered it? Where pipes Cape Horn through frozen shrouds, the mariner hums "Sweet Home" to-night; where hearts are desolate and cold, they sing "Sweet Home" in Heaven. With how many blended hearts, from Plymouth to the Prairie, "Dundee's wild warbling measures rose" last Sabbath morn—the strain the Covenanters sang—the tune that lingers yet along the banks of murmering Ayr!—The "Star Spangled Banner" strong voices hymn on deck and desert, in bivouac and battle, where beats a heart beneath Columbia's flag. The "Exile of Erin" will sing the mournful strain while grates his pilgrim bark upon a foreign shore. They'll chant "Marseillas" and sound the simple "Ranz des Vaches" till Revolutions are no more, and Alpine altars cease to kindle in the evening beam.

We think that this book will have, and we know it deserves, a very wide circulation among the people.

A H & C BURLEY of Chicago, who are associated in the publication of the book, are the agents in Chicago, and we shall be glad to hear of great success to their enterprise.

FOR WAUPUN.—Sheriff PAGE left for Waupun on Saturday, having in charge PATRICK MCDONALD, convicted of the murder of John Gullen and sentenced to death, but whose sentence was commuted to imprisonment for life in the State prison.

We learn that McDonald was [illegible] in his house of the Governor, declaring th[illegible] owed him no thanks, and that "[illegible]yer Donald would be getting him out of jail in [illegible]

NEW YEAR'S EVE.—The [illegible] of the New Year was celebrated with considerable spirit, Saturday evening, especially by our German fellow-citizens. As midnight approached they opened a rattling fire of small arms, in different quarters of the city, quite up to "Fourth of July" pattern. The ball at the Musical Society Hall was largely attended and the music superb. The "Champaign Galop" was performed in a style and spirit worthy of the Germanias themselves.

M. AND M. RAIL ROAD.—It will be seen by the notice in our advertising columns that the Passenger and Freight trains on the M. and M. Rail Road now run to Stoughton, Dane County, 16 miles from Madison, connecting at that point with stages for the Capital, bringing Madison and Milwaukee within five or six hours' ride of each other. In two or three months more, this will be reduced to four hours.

PHYSICIANS FOR THE POOR.—Drs. WOLCOTT, ORTALLI and ORTON have been appointed physicians to attend upon the poor during the year 1854, at $450 each.

A PROHIBITORY LIQUOR LAW.—We notice among the proceedings of the last Common Council, at Fond du Lac, the following stringent "Prohibitory Liquor Law:"

The following Order was presented and on motion adopted.

ORDER.

Be it Ordered by the Mayor and City Council of the city of Fond du Lac:

That all persons are hereby forbidden to sell or give, directly or indirectly, any intoxicating liquors or drinks of any kind to A. L. Rice, Jacob Powers and Volney Witherell; and the Marshal of this city is hereby ordered to notify each and all persons in this city, licenced to sell strong and spiritous liquors, of this order.

☞ A correspondent of the Morning News, writing from Richmond under date of Dec. 18, makes the following announcement:

> I regretted to learn to-day of the death of J. Leslie Blair, Esq., a native of this city, and a former resident of Milwaukee and Madison. He died of yellow fever at Galveston, Texas, about six weeks ago, where he had been practising law for several months previous. Mr. Blair was for one or two sessions of the Legislature Assistant Secretary of the House of Representatives. He was very much respected in Richmond.

☞ MR. JAMES DENSMORE, late of the Oshkosh Democrat, has become associated with Mr. C. L. SHOLES, in the editorial management of the Kenosha Telegraph. Mr. DENSMORE is an original thinker, a vigorous writer and an independent man. The Telegraph is an excellent paper, but will be all the better for Mr. DENSMORE's help.

DEATH OF VARNUM J. BLOOD.—On Wednesday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, Mr. Varnum J. Blood, for many years a respected resident of this city, met with sudden death from the premature discharge of a rock blast, on his railroad contract, a few miles above the city. We have not heard the full particulars, but learn that as a matter of caution, he had made it a rule to fire the blasts on his work himself, and from some cause the powder ignited on this occasion sooner than expected. Some rocks and railroad iron were thrown upon him, and he was killed instantly. Mr. B was a sober, industrious, kind-hearted man, and his carefulness for the safety of his workmen was doubtless the more remote cause of his death. He was a native of New Hampshire.—Galena Gazette, Dec. 29th.

WISCONSIN CENTRAL RAILROAD.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of this Company was held at Elkhorn, on Monday last, for the election of officers.

Messrs. Rockwell, Winsor, Buckley, Preston, Raymond, Haskins, Cheeney, Wakely and Holmes, of the former Board, were re-elected, and Messrs. Foster, Lunt, and Ramsey, of Chicago, and C. M. Goodsell were elected new Directors.

Le Grand Rockwell was re-elected President, Edwin Hodges, Secretary, and Geo. Buckley, Treasurer.

Sufficient subscription to stock have been made to enable the Company to let the contracts for grading, and the ties for the road, from the State line to Elkhorn, 17 miles, which will be done on the first of February next.—Jeffersonian.

ROPE WALK.—We notice a new branch of manufacture started in our town. Mr. Caldicut, formerly of Courtland county, N. Y. has started the business of Rope Making in its various branches, from the smallest cord to the largest cable. Mr. Caldicut has erected his buildings upon the north side of the creek, and as we are informed, has secured a large amount of stock to work with. We were shown a specimen of his work, in the shape of clothes lines and bed cords; and must say they were equal to anything of the kind we have seen. We should manufacture for ourselves, when we have the material as we have for this purpose.—Ripon Herald.

LEAD SHIPPED FROM POTOSI DURING THE SUMMER OF '53. The number of Pigs of Lead shipped from this port during the past season, is as follows:—

S. Wilson,	shipped	5,300 pigs.
J. P. Lewis & Co.	"	3,406 "
McKenzie & Augustine,	"	5,122 "
S. Vance, & Co.	"	5,376 "
Hymer	"	3,852 "
Total amount shipped,		23,096 "

In addition to the above, J. P. Lewis & Co. we are informed, have shipped from the port of Galena about 10,050; the facilities for transportation from their furnace to Galena, being better than to Potosi, induces them to ship the greater portion of their lead at that point.

The shipments from Potosi probably do not embrace over one third of the lead raised in Grant county; all the lead made at Beetown and in that vicinity being shipped at Cassville; while Wingville, Platteville and the region of country composing the Menominee, ship from Galena.—Grant county probably produces from 60,000 to 75,000 pigs of lead, on an average, every year.—Potosi Republican.

☞ The unprecedented success of Dr. Urban's An Bacchanalian justifies us in recommending it to all who are afflicted with that terrible Disease for which it is designed as a remedy. We are assured it is fully what it is represented, and that in the hundreds and thousands of case wherein it has been used, not a single failure has occurred.

PROCLAMATION.

Friends, countrymen and lovers!—hear me for my cause, and be silent that you may hear; discard prejudice that you may believe, and read facts that you may act intelligently. Who, that is young, but values the luxuriant locks of youth and beauty? Who, that is middle-aged but shudders at Grey Hairs? Who, that is old, but would avert baldness? If any, speak—for him I have I offended. As none speak, then none have I offended in addressing twenty-four million people.

Not one of these many million who have attested the virtues of Lyon's Kathairon, for Preserving, Restoring and Beautifying the Hair, but will proclaim its beneficial effects far and near. One trial will convince the most incredulous. Sold uniform, for 25 cents, by every Druggist in America.

VOLUME X. MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL. NEW

Milwaukee Daily Sentinel.

MONDAY MORNING, JAN. 2, 1854.

Rufus King, Wm. H. Watson & John S. Fillmore
PROPRIETORS
UNDER THE NAME AND FIRM OF
RUFUS KING & CO.

NOTICE TO BUSINESS MEN.

The circulation of the DAILY SENTINEL is by far the LARGEST of any daily paper published in the State; and presents greater advantages to Merchants, Mechanics and Artisans, as a medium of Advertising.

All Advertisements appear in the Tri-Weekly Sentinel, without additional charge.

The Weekly Sentinel has now a circulation of over TWO THOUSAND copies, which is constantly and rapidly increasing. Advertisements put in the Weekly at the same rates as in the Daily.

Price of the Daily $6,00, of the Tri-Weekly $3,00 and of the Weekly $1,00 per year, payable in advance.

NO PAPER TO-MORROW.—This being the day set apart for welcoming the New Year, it will be scrupulously observed as a Holiday by all hands in the Sentinel Office, and consequently no paper will be issued to-morrow morning.

CARRIERS' ADDRESS.—Our Carriers will wait upon the patrons of the Sentinel, this morning, with a New Years' Address from the graceful pen of our correspondent, "Porte Crayon." As they have been diligent in serving our subscribers, during the past year, we hope that they will be kindly remembered on New Years' day.

The New Year.

Another year has gone to rest. EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-THREE, with all its hopes and disappointments, its joys and sorrows, its successes and reverses, belongs to the irrevocable past. We have now to do with EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR, and we can offer no better wish for our City and State, than that the year upon which we have just entered may prove in all respects as fortunate as that which has so recently closed.—The cordial greeting which springs to every lip and salutes all ears to-day, renders the advent of the New Year emphatically the season of good will among men. To-day, acquaintances nearly forgotten and friendship grown rusty, are renewed and brightened. To-day, envy, hatred and all uncharitableness are by common consent dismissed from thought, and peace, good feeling, and neighborly kindness hold undisputed sway. New Year's Day, indeed, is the "good time" come, when the spirit of the season dissolves the ice of man's selfish nature, and each sees in his neighbor "a man and a brother." Would that this "good time" were of longer continuance! Would that the kindly feelings to which this day gives birth ended only with the year that is, to be renewed in the first hours of the year that is to come.

We should indeed be ungrateful to the numerous and increasing patrons of the Sentinel, if we failed to express our acknowledgments for their past favors and generous support, or to tender our best wishes for their future health, prosperity and happiness. The tie which unites the editor of a daily journal with his readers, strengthens and brightens with the lapse of years. This is the ninth occasion on which it has been our privilege to offer to the readers of the Sentinel the wish, appropriate to the Season, of a "Happy New Year," and assuredly the sincerity of that wish loses nothing by repetition. We tender it again today with earnest and heartfelt gratitude to our friends and patrons, for the substantial encouragement they have given us in the past, and with renewed assurances on our part of striving to deserve the continuance and increase of their friendly favors. And we invoke upon them, as upon all, the blessings and protection of Almighty God, in the work of their hands and the business of their calling, throughout the coming year.

The War in the East.

The details of the Pacific's news, brought by Friday's mails, will be found in our columns this morning. The particulars of the naval action on the Black Sea were not fully known at the date of her departure from Liverpool, but the main features are included in the summary of the news. The later advices by the Africa have apprised us that the first account, put forth by the Russians, was grossly exaggerated; and that the loss was much larger on their side and much less on the Turkish, than at first represented. The effect of the news upon the English press and people may be readily inferred from the following paragraph in the leader of the London Times:

The effect this event will have in Europe is not less serious. It dispels the hopes we have been led to entertain of pacification, for we cannot share the opinion that this success will lower in any degree the temper or pretentions of Russia; and it imposes upon the allied fleets more peremptory duties. Indeed, as this blow on the naval resources of Turkey interrupts her communications with Trebizond and Batun, it is highly injurious to her Asiatic army, and all would be lost if the command of the Black Sea were suffered to pass into the hands of the enemy. The British Government and its allies will have, from the moment this intelligence is confirmed, to deal with a state of affairs far more decided and momentous than any which this question had yet assumed; and we earnestly trust that the cabinet will prove itself equal to the emergency. It scarcely devolves, indeed, on the Ministers of the Crown now to determine what positive steps are to be taken under these circumstances; for we cannot doubt that after such an act of aggressive war, committed upon a State under the shelter of the united flags of France and England, the Embassadors and Admirals at Constantinople have resolved at once upon the measures required.

The Dannan Monument.

Our friend of the Madison Journal seems determined to be the death of the monument project, though there is a sort of hint that its erection at the capital might allay all scruples. The latest phase of opposition comes to us in the shape of a lugubrious article, representing the sister of the murdered boy as "a servant girl in Milwaukee, growing up in ignorance, without friends, doomed to battle with the world alone, &c." The article is well-written, and ought not to be lost. We copy a portion:

The mock sympathy that, "slowly wise and meanly just," builds monuments to departed worth, and ignores living merit, has no tears for her. Her lot is with those who are compelled to perform the greatest amount of labor for the least remuneration. Those who are lauding the virtues of her murdered brother, would scarcely condescend to eat at the same table with her. The costly but unavailing marble is to be reared to the memory of one; the other is left to penury and hopeless toil. What will be her emotions as she passes by that splendid monument, if by chance she may escape for a few hours on some Sunday afternoon from the menial services in which she has been condemned to pass her life, and above which she has no hope of ever rising? She is below the reach of that elegant sympathy which is composed of starch, silks, costly furs, broadcloths, &c.

Our sympathising friends of the Journal will make haste to express their pleasure at finding that one of Emanual's sisters is comfortably cared for in an excellent family in our city, while the other is happily situated as the adopted child of one of the "solid men" of Johnstown, Rock County.

WHO'S HIT?—The Chicago Democrat, in common with other papers of that city, copies with great glee the woful communication of "a sufferer," from the Detroit Tribune, protesting against the steam ferry ship between this port and Grand Haven, and pronounces it "a hard hit at the 'Quixotic' attempt of the city of Bricks to 'bridge Lake Michigan.'" From the fluttering among our Chicago contemporaries, we should say that not only the Tribune's communication but every other allusion to the "Steam-Ferry," was a very hard hit indeed.

☞ DAVID McKEE, assistant clerk of the last Assembly, will, it is said, be a candidate for Secretary of the State Senate at the ensuing session.—If successful, he will make an efficient officer.—We have not, as yet, seen any name of candidates for clerk of Assembly.

☞ The first freight over the Great Western (Canada) road, was received at Detroit on Thursday last. It consisted of two tons of Oysters, fresh from the "beds" of New Haven, for ROWE & Co.

☞ We are glad to learn from the Chicago Journal of Friday, that our friend R. L. WILSON who has been seriously ill, is now convalescent.

RAILROAD MEETING IN FOND DU LAC CO.—Mr. Kneeland, President of the M. F. du L. & G. B. R. R. Co., is now on a tour through portions of Fond du Lac Co., endeavoring to wake up the people to a proper interest in the completion of the road. A meeting was held in the town of Ashford on the 22d ult., which was addressed by Mr. Kneeland and others, and a committee appointed, Mr. Longstreet chairman, to report resolutions. The following were reported and unanimously adopted:

Resolutions—Whereas, being fully satisfied by the practical workings of Rail Roads in all parts of the world, that they are eminently in accordance with the upward, onward and progressive spirit of the age, alone calculated to afford the proper and required facilities of internal transit to the products of all branches of our varied enterprise and industry, binding in common bonds of union and brotherhood our wide-spread and growing country.

Resolved, That we hail with no ordinary feelings of satisfaction and delight the construction of the Milwaukee, Fond du Lac and Green Bay Rail Road through this section of our state.

Resolved, that being fully satisfied of the utility of this enterprise in a pecuniary point of view, that it will be one of the best paying roads of any of the many now projected in our state, and having full confidence in the ability, honesty, and integrity of the company, we will in all proper and honorable ways, aid, assist, and co-operate with the company in carrying out to successful completion, this most desirable work.

On motion, Resolved, that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Fond du Lac and Milwaukee papers.

The meeting then adjourned sine die.

POST-MASTER AT MENASHA.—We learn from the last Menasha Advocate, that its editor and publisher, JERRY CROWLEY, formerly of this city, has been appointed Postmaster, in place of E. F. O'CONNELL, resigned. The Advocate "welcomes the coming, speeds the parting guest"—that is, it compliments the out-going P. M. as a faithful and efficient officer, "and although a regular whig," entirely acceptable to the Menasha people; while it "has no hesitation in pronouncing" Mr. CROWLEY'S appointment as "a first rate" one. We think as much. Our friend CROWLEY, however, is by no means satisfied with being publisher, editor and postmaster. He is also foreman of the new Hook and Ladder Company in Menasha. Notwithstanding these manifold occupations, JERRY is about; as witness this "hit" at his neighbor of the Appleton Crescent:

The Appleton Crescent is rich, as usual, in nonsense. It says many queer things, and we will try to give a synopsis of them:

In the first place, Major Ryan says that we have been "harping upon his daughter." Now, we deny this in toto, as this is the first time we ever heard of the Major's having one.

The Crescent also states that an attempt is being made to oust Col. Moores from the office of Receiver at this place. This is news to us, and we rather think there is nothing in it. We presume, however, that the Major's object is to flatter the Colonel, and raise another gold pen out of him. But you can't come it, SAM! The Colonel is too old a bird to be caught doing that trick twice.

☞ BRIDGET HALEY, wife of Thomas Haley, came from County Clare, Ireland, five years ago last June. When last heard from, she lived with a Mr. Brunswick, or some person of similar name, somewhere in Wisconsin. She wrote to her mother, Catharine Halpin, who had remained in Ireland, sending her funds to pay her passage, &c., to this country. Unfortunately, the vessel in which Mrs. Halpin embarked was cast away on the passage, and Mrs. H. lost her little all, together with her daughter's letter. She is thus left, not only entirely destitute, but without any certain direction whereby she can find her daughter.

N. B.—Publishers of newspapers in Wisconsin and Illinois, will confer a great favor on a poor, unfortunate woman by giving this notice an insertion in their respective papers.

Mrs. Alderman Bray, or Mrs. Delafield, of Milwaukee, will inform where Mrs. Halpin is staying.

BLACKWOOD FOR DECEMBER.—We are indebted to LEONARD SCOTT & Co, 79 Fulton St., N. Y., for an early copy of their republication of Blackwood for December. The following is the list of contents:

1. National Gallery.
2. A Letter from the Boulevards.
3. The Narcotics we indulge in. No. 3.
4. University Reform.
5. Rapping the Question—a tale of Modern Magic.
6. Real and Ideal Beauty.
7. The Quiet Heart, No. 1.
8. Russia and Turkey.

Blackwood needs no praise. It is the best monthly published in the language, and is sent to subscribers for $3,00 a year.

FIRST OF JANUARY—NO MORE PRAIRIE CHICKENS!—Farmers, Hunters, Poulterers and all others will do well to bear in mind the fact that by the laws of this State it is a fineable offence to kill, trap, take, or have any Prairie Chickens after this date, or any Quails or Partridges after the first of next month. The design of the law is to prevent the extermination of these birds. With "fair play" they will always be abundant in this State, and it is for the interest of all parties that the Law should be rigidly enforced.

THE AUSTRALIAN GOLD MINES.—The Steamship Pacific, which arrived at New-York on Monday last, brought accounts from Melbourne to the close of September. The yield from the Victoria mines averaged a million of dollars per week.—The Balarat diggings, the first discovered, were still the richest. Immigration continued to be large; the arrivals being in the proportion of 5 to 1 of departures. A single steamer had brought to London $3,000,000 in gold.

SMALL BILL LAW.—The law, imposing a penalty of not less than Five Dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars, for passing any bill issued by any Bank out of this State, of a less denomination than Five Dollars, and making all contracts void in which such bills form part of the consideration, goes into effect to-day. We have no idea that the law will be observed, or enforced, but it is well to know its provisions and penalty.

HEAVY PORK.—The Ripon Herald of Dec. 28th says:

Skeels & Surauer, bought at this place last week, a lot of three hogs weighing 1541, or an average of 513 each. They were raised by one of our subscribers, residing about 4 miles west of this village.

The Pork brought into our market, thus far this winter is the finest we ever saw, and the average weight much above that of last year.

LA CROSSE & MILWAUKEE R. R.—The La Crosse Rail Road "—it is likely to become a verity soon; it is surveyed quite through from Portage City: settlers are taking up the lands on the route.—Stevens P't. Pinery.

We learn from Mr. VLIET, Engineer on this road, that such is the interest felt in La Crosse in its completion to the Mississippi, that the citizens of that small place have taken no less than $150,000 of stock. It is bound to go ahead.

NEW LOCOMOTIVE.—The Hudson River Railroad brought out a splendid locomotive last week called the Huron and on her first trip, it is said, she made 43 miles in 36 minutes.—Buffalo Express.

This is doubtless one of the two engines built under a contract to take the Express trains through from N. Y. to Albany at the rate of 75 miles an hour.

☞ Our wide-awake neighbor, the News, is intent upon maintaining its character for publishing exclusive intelligence. In its Saturday's issue it informed the public and the Boston Courier "that at this moment, in Wisconsin, Whiggery and Abolitionism are identical." No other paper has this news, or is likely to get it.

☞ The $8,000 left to the President by Senator Atherton was not for his own personal use, but as a fund in trust to be expended in Washington city for certain purposes. The sealed letter to the President mentioned in the will, directs the disposition of the funds.

TATCHEEDAH AND GREEN BAY PLANKROAD.—The last Fond du Lac Union announces that contracts for completing, within 12 months, 24 miles of this road, have just been let, which, with the 17 miles previously under contract, leaves but 11 miles to finish the whole.

THE NAVAL ENGAGEMENT IN THE BLACK SEA.

We have from the New York papers, the following particulars relative to, and remarks of European papers upon, the late naval battle in the Black Sea. The N. Y. Tribune, after speaking of the feeling entertained that the blow is a very disastrous one to the Turks, says:

We are happy to be able to contradict these impressions and to allay these excessive apprehensions. The battle at Sinope was comparatively insignificant, though as far as our imperfect intelligence can clear up the facts, it was gallantly contested on both sides. It was fought, not between the numerous and powerful Turkish fleet of the Black Sea, and a corresponding number of Russian ships, but between a Turkish squadron of three frigates, and two little steamers, with some small transports, and a force of six sail of the line, twelve frigates and some smaller vessels, commanded by Vice Admiral Nachimoff, the oldest Russian Commander on that sea. The Turkish Admiral Osman Pasha was proceeding up the coast, conveying men and stores to Batun for the Turkish army in Asia, when he was met by the enemy's fleet off Sinope, a place on the southern shore, just in that part where the Sea is narrowest, with the Russian naval station of Sebastopol nearly opposite on the northern shore, the distance between the two places being about 176 miles. It seems that the main action took place in the harbor, where Osman Pasha endeavored to find refuge from the superior force of Nachimoff. So desperate was the fighting that the Russians, according to their own account, carried away only one prize, the flag-ship of the squadron, and she sunk before they reached Sebastopol. All the other vessels were destroyed, we are told, except one, which made good its escape. At the same time the Russian fleet was so damaged in the fight that some of its craft had serious difficulty in making port. Such are the facts, as they appear from the best statements at our command.

We invite attention to the following summary, which contains all of the material facts and speculations brought by the London papers:

THE SEAT OF WAR.—The following telegraphic despatch was received from Vienna, dated on the evening of December 10:

On the 30th Nov. six Russian ships of the line, under Admiral Machinoff, attacked a Turkish squadron at Sinope, and notwithstanding the violent fire of the land batteries in the roads, in an hour and a half completely destroyed seven Turkish frigates, one steam frigate, two schooners, and three transport ships.

An attempt was made to take the Turkish flag ship, with Osman Pasha on board, to Sebastopol, but as she began to sink while at sea, Osman Pasha and the crew were taken on board the Russian ships.

The Russian flagship had suffered so much that it could hardly reach Sebastopol.

A despatch from Odessa of the 5th inst., which reached Paris by way of Vienna, confirms the above intelligence, without giving further details. The number of Turkish vessels captured or sunk is quoted at 12.

Prince Menchikoff immediately left Odessa for St. Petersburgh, to communicate the news of the victory to the Emperor.

The Times, however, speaks doubtingly of the reliability of this report. It says that it was received from its correspondent at Vienna, and was no doubt by him deemed authentic, but adds that "until it is confirmed we are not inclined to place implicit reliance upon it." And further:

The latest intelligence from Constantinople, via Marseilles, is to the 26th ult., and at that date the Turkish squadron, which had entered the Black Sea, contrary to the advice of the British Ambassador, had returned in safety to the Bosphorus without having encountered any portion of the Russian fleet.

It is, of course, possible that it may have again put to sea, or that another squadron may be referred to.

In an editorial on the following day, December 13, the Times somewhat modifies its language, and says:—

It must be remarked that great perplexity and uncertainty still hang over the details of this important event. All the accounts received of it appear to have been despatched from Odessa on the 5th inst., and to have passed through Vienna.—They are, therefore, altogether Russian statements. On the other hand, it is well ascertained that on the 28th [illegible] November, two days prior to the action, the principal divisions of the Turkish fleet were at anchor [illegible] the Bosphorus. Admiral Slade had brought back his division some days before, with the exception of one frigate, which had taken shelter at Sinope, and great satisfaction had been expressed that at this inclement season of the year the line [illegible] ships and frigates were safe in harbor.

It would seem probable, therefore, that the squadron which the Russians have demolished was a convoy bound with troops and arms for some point on the coast of Asia; and the most probable version of the story seems to be that the Russian cruisers pursued this convoy into the roads of Sinope.

It has been suggested that, as Sinope is a naval arsenal, it is possible that some of the vessels destroyed by the Russians were hulks in the port, Sinope is the best harbor on the coast of Asia Minor, situated about three hundred miles from the Bosphorus, and at the narrowest part of the Black Sea, being only 42 maritime leagues from Sebastopol.

The town of Sinope is built on the isthmus of a peninsula jutting out into the Euxine, and forming two capacious harbors. That to the Southeast is used by the Turks as a naval station.

The town is a square; flanked with towers, and covered by a small citadel; but, in spite of the importance of the place, it has long been considered the most vulnerable point on the whole North coast of Asia Minor.

The land batteries, whatever they may be, appear to have been quite incompetent to meet the fire of the ships, and this engagement furnishes another example of the comparative weakness of ordinary fortifications when opposed to modern naval gunnery.

Among the Turkish forts there are scarcely any strong enough to beat off a line-of battle ship.—However, after the destruction of no less than 12 Turkish vessels, without taking a single prize in a state to be removed to Sebastopol, the Russian ships themselves were in a condition to reach that harbor with difficulty.

The havoc which is described to have taken place, shows that the ships on both sides were fought with great gallantry; and the Russians, who first surprised every one by allowing themselves to be beaten on land, have now surprised us again by an exploit at sea.

They had, however, by their own account, a vast superiority of force, and Osman Bey, the Turkish commander, only surrendered at the last extremity.

The Globe, published on the evening of the 12th, has the following, dated Vienna, Dec. 12:

The larger Turkish vessel which were destroyed had each 800 soldiers besides artillerymen, on board, and a large sum of money, being bound for the East coast of the Black Sea. A fourteenth vessel escaped undamaged.

"The battle began at an hour's distance from Sinope.

"On the 2d nothing was known of the defeat at Constantinople.

"The Turks were successful in Asia."

The Globe adds:

"It would appear likely from this that the force attacked was that which left Constantinople on the 26th for Batoum, and which had on board 5,000 men as reinforcements for the Asiatic army.

"The theory of probabilities would also seem to warrant the assumption that the Turkish commander, on being attacked, made for Sinope to land his troops—whether he succeeded in doing so before his vessels were destroyed remains to be seen.

The Paris correspondent of the Times says:

"Another private despatch, but which requires confirmation, mentions that the Russians lost in the affair at Sinope two ships of the line, three frigates and two steamboats; and it adds that their force consisted of twelve frigates, a brig and five steamboat, besides the six ships of the line, as mentioned in the Moniteur."

No accounts had been received at Constantinople from Danube. The entire portion of Wallachia is covered with water, which renders it impossible for the Russians to make any movement. Kalafat, fortified by a garrison of 30,000 men, was regarded as impregnable.

A private despatch mentions that the Turks have obtained some important advantages over the Russians in the neighborhood of Teflis.

Constantinople, Nov. 28.

Reinforcements were sent to the army of Anatolia the day before yesterday to the number of 5,000 men.

The tempestuous character of the weather has for the present suspended naval operations in the Black Sea. The two divisions of the Turco-Egyptian squadron is now at Buyukdere. The French and English fleets are still at Beycos, in the Bosphorus.

The European and Turkish artillery officers have just completed the fortifications of the Ottoman coast of the Black Sea. It is now guarded by 250 heavy guns, well placed to command the sea and forbid the approach of ships of war.

The Sultan maintains his resolve not to enter upon the path of negotiation while his territory remains violated.

Notwithstanding the war, commerce is active; 322 vessels have entered, and 517 left Constantinople in the course of the last week.

The Turkish passenger steamer, Medari Tidjaret, which was captured by Russian cruisers in the Black Sea several days ago, came into the Bosphorus on the 29th, and caused great astonishment.

The vessel was taken before the expiration of the delay granted on both sides for placing merchant ships out of danger. As there were several Russian merchantmen at Constantinople when the Medari Tidjaret was captured, the Russians were unusually scrupulous in dealing with her.

Lord Stratford de Radcliffe has removed from Therapia to Pera, to be nearer the French Ambassador.

A column of the new legion of Turkish Cossacks had arrived at Constantinople; 6000 volunteer Scodriens have been organized in Albania, and a new corps of 10,000 Kurds has been formed by the sheiks of their country.

Bucharest, Nov. 30.

The Russians are pushing their troops forward on the road to Kalafat. The Turks are still engaged in fortifying that place.

On the 26th a Russian major was killed in a skirmish near Giurgevo.

The Turks are still holding the Island of Mokan.

Arif Effendi has told Baron Buol that the Porte consented to the neutrality of Servia.

Austria, and, it is said, Russia likewise, have instructed the Vladika of Montenegro to observe the strictest neutrality.

BURNING OF THE GREAT REPUBLIC.

The N. Y. Tribune gives the following account of the burning of the ship Great Republic on Monday last:

The sparks were so thick in the vicinity as to assume the appearance of raining fire. The streets and docks along the East River were literally alive with burning coals. The pier at the foot of Dover st. was at one time covered to the depth of some inches with cinders, and the rigging and masts of the numerous vessels lying in the stream were completely enveloped in flying sparks. The seamen and others strenuously exerted themselves to prevent the canvass from igniting, but in most instances the high wind rendered their efforts useless.

About 1½ o'clock the rigging of the stupendous new ship Great Republic took fire. Owing to the immense height of her masts it was impossible for the engines to play upon the flames, and the consequence was that the falling spars soon set her deck in a blaze. At 3 o'clock her foremast fell, knocking her mainyard out of the slings, and shortly after the mainmast came down across the deck. Her mizzenmast followed, carrying with it her spankermast. The vessel was now a perfect wreck, being one mass of flame abaft the mainmast.

From the Great Republic the fire communicated to the ship Joseph Walker, lying in the same slip, and in a short time her upper works were enveloped in flames. She belonged to the Black Star Line, and may be considered a total loss.

The clipper-ship White Squall, lying next to the Great Republic, caught fire in the rigging, and was soon in a blaze from stem to stern.

She was towed into the stream by one of the Fulton Ferry boats and drifted up the river opposite the Navy Yard, where she burned to the water's edge.

In addition to the above, several other vessels—mostly schooners and sloops—had their spars and rigging burned. The majority of them, however, escaped total destruction by slipping their cables and drawing out into the stream.

The following is a list of the cargo on board the Great Republic—

896 tres of Beef.	1,023 bales of Cotton.
97 tres of Lard.	639 boxes of Tea.
58 bbls of Lard.	4,046 bbls of Rosin.
23,406 bush of Wheat.	14 hhds of Tobacco.
33,509 bush of Corn.	70 casks of Argols.
6,620 bbls of Flour.	267 pcs. Maple and Cedar Wood

The entire cargo was valued at $250,000.

The vessel was valued at $175,000 and the freight at $160,000. Of this sum $240,000 was insured in this City, $20,000 in Philadelphia, $20,000 in Boston, and perhaps some further sums.

The ship may be considered a total loss, and the whole cargo either totally destroyed, or badly damaged.

The Williamsburgh and Fulton Ferry boats were employed for several hours in towing such ships as could be moved into the river, thus preventing a larger amount of damage to the shipping lying in this part of the City.

The bells rang a general alarm, bringing to the ground nearly all the Fire Department of New York. Notwithstanding the cold state of the atmosphere the firemen labored with great energy, and only ceased to rest when the flames were subdued and no further danger from the devouring element to be apprehended.

The amount of Insurance on the cargo of the Great Republic could not be exactly ascertained, All was got by the owners that could be; but New-York officer had taken so much upon the ship, that latterly they declined risks upon the freight.

The falling of the mainmast of the ship Great Republic upset a small boat containing four firemen belonging to a Hook and Ladder Company. Several men in boats immediately put out from the shore and succeeded in rescuing from drowning the unfortunate firemen.

FURTHER FROM ERIE.

The Buffalo Express, after giving an account of the shooting at Erie, says:

This proceeding, we apprehend, will bring these difficulties to a crisis. The Erie people, rumor says, are preparing to visit the railroad company with their vengeance. The company is prepared, and will take care of itself and its property from this moment. The popular feeling of indignation is so strong that they will not long need aid, but have enough, if necessary, to sweep the infected district of every outlaw who now disgraces it.

The Courier has the following further particulars:

After the Conductor had taken refuge in the car, a report obtained credence among the mob outside that Mr. Superintendent Dennis was aboard (which was true) and that he shot the man Nelson. They immediately demanded that he should deliver himself up, which he, accustomed to obey mandates only in a legal way, refused to do without they would show their papers, at the same time assuring them that he did not shoot the man, and that he had no arms. He offered to allow them to search him, but the crowd were determined to have him by force. One of the employers on the train ran forward to the engine while the disturbance was going on, and gave instructions to the Engineer. The cars were then uncoupled, and Mr. Dennis and party, including an Erie Justice of the Peace and one or two other officials, came on to the State Line. The engine was then run back, taking all who wished to go, and, connecting with the remainder of the train, brought them on, after so much delay.

Before the train left, all the Erie military companies with Gen. Kilpatrick at their head and the cannon at their tail, with the Sheriff and Mayor and half the citizens of Erie, came rushing to the spot. Between 1500 and 2000 persons were present, all in a highly excited state. The Mayor addressed them with such inflammatory appeals that the Sheriff stopped him. The bridge at Harbor Creek which had just been re-built for the third time, and the last stroke made upon it in the forenoon, was torn down for the fourth time, the track was torn up again and the ties burned.—Timber is now being procured, preparatory to rebuilding the bridge again, though of what use the labor is, we are at a loss to see.

The passengers complain in unstinted terms of the abominable proceedings had, declaring that it is not safe for one of them even to express his opinion among the mob. Every thing along the line of the Road is thrown into confusion, there being no regular time for the arrival or departure of trains, and, as a matter of course, there is some pretty tall and profuse swearing, and a common feeling of indignation is expressed. At present the interruptions are as bad as ever. Mob Law has triumphed again and reigns complete!

Correspondence of the Journal of Commerce.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Dec. 23d.

A report was received to-day in the House, from the Postmaster-General, with the estimates for appropriations for those mail steamers that are properly under his control—to wit, the Bremen and Southampton, and the New Orleans and Vera Cruz, Charleston and Savannah lines. These embrace the regular and ordinary appropriations for that service. This report was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

As to the Collins line the Committee on Ways and Means have agreed to provide in the regular mail steamer appropriation bill, when they report the same, for a notice to the proprietor of the Collins line, of the discontinuance of the extra compensation to that line. The notice must, by law, be given after the 30th December, and six months prior to the date of the termination of the allowance. It is not, however, to be taken for granted that the House will adopt the proposition of the Committee.

A bill has been unanimously reported from the Committee on Patents of the House, for the relief of Samuel Colt, by the extension of his patent for a new and useful improvement in fire arms for seven years, reserving to the Government of the United States, the right to make and manufacture the arms in all of their own armories, for military and naval purposes.

Citizens of Erie Fleeing for their Lives.

John A. Tracy, President of the E. & N. E. Road, John L. Tracy, Superintendent of the same road, John A. Walker, Director and Attorney of the said Road, Mr. Hart, ticket agent at Erie, Miles W. Caughey, deputy U. S. Marshal, are in this city, having been obliged to leave Erie, to save their property and the lives of themselves and families from the fury of the mob. All these gentlemen are old and respected citizens of Erie, have summered and wintered in that city, and now by the entreaties of their families have fled to avert the murderous knife and incendiary torch.—Cleveland Herald.

RUN AWAY.—A spirited team, attached to a waggon, the property of Mr. George Throop, of this city, ran away to-day. Mr. T. was driving the team himself, and was, we regret to say, thrown upon the ground with such force as to seriously injure his head and otherwise badly bruise him. The horses, we understand, have frequently ran away before.—Sheboygan Journal.

POLICE COURT—Dec. 31.

Henry Palmer was brought up on the complaint of Hugh McGrady, charged with having threatened to kill said complainant; upon examination the court required the defendant to recognize in the sum of $250 to keep the peace. He gave the bail, paid the costs and was discharged.

H. Schmidt was brought up on the charge of assault and battery, alleged to have been committed upon the person of Thomas Cantrell. A material witness for the prosecution being absent, the case was continued to Saturday next for trial.

United States Court.

The regular January term of the U. S. District Court, Judge MILLER presiding, commences in our City at 11 o'clock this morning. We learn that the Calendar is a heavy one, embracing nearly two hundred cases, most of them litigated ones. It will no doubt be the most important session of the U. S. Court, yet held here.

"JANUARY AND JUNE, BEING OUT DOOR THINKINGS AND FIRESIDE MUSINGS, BY BENJ. F. TAYLOR. Illustrated. Published by SAMUEL HUESTON, 139 Nassau St. N. Y., and A. H. & C. BURLEY, Chicago.

This volume has been for some time upon our table, but somehow has missed its turn for a notice, until just as the New Year comes in. Not by any means because we have not deemed it worthy of a notice. Quite otherwise, for, as we have learned by taking more time for its perusal than we usually are able to bestow upon new publications, it is one of the most charming books with which we have been favored this many a day. Our readers are no strangers to the author, Mr. Taylor, for we have often, before his removal to New York and during his connection with the Chicago Journal, copied his pleasant, homelike, hearty sketches into our columns.

If we had room, we should be glad to fill a column now with extracts from the collection before us, as a New Year's feast for our readers, but must limit ourselves to the following, from the writers pleasant chat about music and the old tunes, heard in childhood, which linger in the memory while life lasts:

"Auld Lang Syne"—here it is, glittering with the dews of its native heather—sung last night in a hovel, sung this morning in a hall "When shall we meet again?" Within one little year how many lips have asked—how many knells have answered it? Where pipes Cape Horn through frozen shrouds, the mariner hums "Sweet Home" to-night; where hearts are desolate and cold, they sing "Sweet Home" in Heaven. With how many blended hearts, from Plymouth to the Prairie, "Dundee's wild warbling measures rose" last Sabbath morn—the strain the Covenanters sang—the tune that lingers yet along the banks of murmuring Ayr!—The "Star Spangled Banner" strong voices hymn on deck and desert, in bivouac and battle, where beats a heart beneath Columbia's flag. The "Exile of Erin" will sing the mournful strain while grates his pilgrim bark upon a foreign shore. They'll chant "Marseillais" and sound the simple "Ranz des Vaches" till Revolutions are no more, and Alpine altars cease to kindle in the evening beam.

We think that this book will have, and we know it deserves, a very wide circulation among the people.

A H & C BURLEY of Chicago, who are associated in the publication of the book, are the agents in Chicago, and we shall be glad to hear of great success to their enterprise.

FOR WAUPUN.—Sheriff PAGE left for Waupun on Saturday, having in charge PATRICK McDONALD, convicted of the murder of John Gullen and sentenced to death, but whose sentence was commuted to imprisonment for life in the State prison.

We learn that McDonald was [illegible] his house of The Governor [illegible] th[illegible] owed him no thanks, and that [illegible]yer Doran [illegible] be getting him out of jail in [illegible]

NEW YEAR'S EVE.—Th[illegible] of the New Year was celebrated with considerable spirit, Saturday evening, especially by our German fellow-citizens. As midnight approached they opened a rattling fire of small arms, in different quarters of the city, quite up to "Fourth of July" pattern. The ball at the Musical Society Hall was largely attended and the music superb. The "Champaign Galop" was performed in a style and spirit worthy of the Germanias themselves.

M. AND M. RAIL ROAD.—It will be seen by the notice in our advertising columns that the Passenger and Freight trains on the M. and M. Rail Road now run to Stoughton, Dane County, 16 miles from Madison, connecting at that point with stages for the Capital, bringing Madison and Milwaukee within five or six hours' ride of each other. In two or three months more, this will be reduced to four hours.

PHYSICIANS FOR THE POOR.—DRS. WOLCOTT, ORTALLI and ORTON have been appointed physicians to attend upon the poor during the year 1854, at $450 each.

A PROHIBITORY LIQUOR LAW.—We notice among the proceedings of the last Common Council, at Fond du Lac, the following stringent "Prohibitory Liquor Law:"

The following Order was presented and on motion adopted.

ORDER.

Be it Ordered by the Mayor and City Council of the city of Fond du Lac:

That all persons are hereby forbidden to sell or give, directly or indirectly, any intoxicating liquors or drinks of any kind to A. L. Rice, Jacob Powers and Volney Witherell; and the Marshal of this city is hereby ordered to notify each and all persons in this city, licenced to sell strong and spirituous liquors, of this order.

☞ A correspondent of the Morning News, writing from Richmond under date of Dec. 25, makes the following announcement:

I regretted to learn to-day of the death of J. Leslie Blair, Esq., a native of this city, and a former resident of Milwaukee and Madison. He died of yellow fever at Galveston, Texas, about six weeks ago, where he had been practising law for several months previous. Mr. Blair was for one or two sessions of the Legislature Assistant Secretary of the House of Representatives. He was very much respected in Richmond.

☞ MR. JAMES DENSMORE, late of the Oshkosh Democrat, has become associated with Mr. C. L. SHOLES, in the editorial management of the Kenosha Telegraph. Mr. DENSMORE is an original thinker, a vigorous writer and an independent man. The Telegraph is an excellent paper, but will be all the better for Mr. DENSMORE'S help.

DEATH OF VARNUM J. BLOOD.—On Wednesday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, Mr. Varnum J. Blood, for many years a respected resident of this city, met with sudden death from the premature discharge of a rock blast, on his railroad contract, a few miles above the city. We have not heard the full particulars, but learn that as a matter of caution, he had made it a rule to fire the blasts on his work himself, and from some cause the powder ignited on this occasion sooner than expected. Some rocks and railroad iron were thrown upon him, and he was killed instantly. Mr. B was a sober, industrious, kind-hearted man, and his carefulness for the safety of his workmen was doubtless the more remote cause of his death. He was a native of New Hampshire.—Galena Gazette, Dec. 29th.

WISCONSIN CENTRAL RAILROAD.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of this Company was held at Elkhorn, on Monday last, for the election of officers.

Messrs. Rockwell, Winsor, Buckley, Preston, Raymond, Haskins, Cheeney, Wakely and Holmes, of the former Board, were re-elected, and Messrs. Foster, Lunt, and Ramsey, of Chicago, and C. M. Goodsell were elected new Directors.

Le Grand Rockwell was re-elected President, Edwin Hodges, Secretary, and Geo. Buckley, Treasurer.

Sufficient subscription to stock have been made to enable the Company to let the contracts for grading, and the ties for the road, from the State line to Elkhorn, 17 miles, which will be done on the first of February next.—Jeffersonian.

ROPE WALK.—We notice a new branch of manufacture started in our town. Mr. Caldicut, formerly of Courtland county, N. Y. has started the business of Rope Making in its various branches, from the smallest cord to the largest cable. Mr. Caldicut has erected his buildings upon the north side of the creek, and as we are informed, has secured a large amount of stock to work with. We were shown a specimen of his work, in the shape of clothes lines and bed cords; and must say they were equal to anything of the kind we have seen. We should manufacture for ourselves, when we have the material as we have for this purpose.—Ripon Herald.

LEAD SHIPPED FROM POTOSI DURING THE SUMMER OF '53.—The number of Pigs of Lead shipped from this port during the past season, is as follows:—

S. Wilson,	shipped	5,300 pigs.
J. P. Lewis & Co.	"	3,406 "
McKenzie & Augustine,	"	5,122 "
S. Vance, & Co.	"	5,376 "
Hymer	"	3,882 "
Total amount shipped,		23 086 "

In addition to the above, J. P. Lewis & Co. we are informed, have shipped from the port of Galena about 10,060; the facilities for transportation from their furnace to Galena, being better than to Potosi, induces them to ship the greater portion of their lead at that point.

The shipments from Potosi probably do not embrace over one third of the lead raised in Grant county; all the lead made at Beetown and in that vicinity being shipped at Cassville; while Wingville, Platteville and the region of country composing the Menomonee, ship from Galena.—Grant county probably produces from 60,000 to 75,000 pigs of lead, on an average, every year.—Potosi Republican.

☞ The unprecedented success of Dr. Urban's Anti-Bacchanalian justifies us in recommending it to all who are afflicted with that terrible Disease for which it is designed as a remedy. We are assured it is fully what it is represented, and that in the hundreds and thousands of cases where it has been used, not a single failure has occurred.

PROCLAMATION.

Friends, countrymen and lovers!—hear me for my cause, and be silent that you may hear; discard prejudice that you may believe, and read facts that you may act intelligently. Who, that is young, but values the luxuriant locks of youth and beauty? Who, that is middle-aged but shudders at Grey Hairs? Who, that is old, but would avert baldness? If any, speak,—for him I have I offended. As none speak, then none have I offended in addressing twenty-four million people.

Not one of these many million who have attested the virtues of Lyon's Kathairon, for Preserving, Restoring and Beautifying the Hair, but will proclaim its beneficial effects far and near. One trial will convince the most incredulous. Sold uniform, for 25 cents, by every Druggist in America.

[illegible] Sturgess & Co. advertise the loss of [illegible] St. Louis City Bonds, sent out by [illegible].

Washington, Dec 31.

[illegible] the Speaker laid before the House a [illegible] from the Dept. of Coast Survey for the [illegible] to consider the propriety of printing [illegible] copies.

Mr. Hendrick rose to present proceedings and [illegible] of a large meeting held at Indianapolis [illegible] the destruction of travel and commerce by [illegible] Erie. On account of the distinguished character of the persons who took part in the [illegible] and those implicated, he wished the [illegible] directly before the House. This is not [illegible] of local interest, nor question between the city of Erie and the Railroad Co. New York and all cities must have an interest therein.

For many days companies of armed men by [illegible] have held and obstructed one of the great [illegible] of commerce and trade between the West and East. If six, seven, or eight hundred [illegible] had invaded our border, and had [illegible] commerce, stopped our mails [illegible] the travel of our people the [illegible] of the whole country would have at once [illegible]. The same section of constitution [illegible] power upon Government to repel invasion [illegible] subjected to suppress insurrection. [illegible] would not say whether this movement [illegible] that comes within the provisions of the Constitution, but would say that his [illegible] was interested in having commerce free. He moved that the memorial be referred to the committee on military affairs.

Mr. M[illegible] remarked that the Legislature of Pennsylvania was about to assemble and would [illegible] take the matter into consideration so far as Erie is concerned. No action therefore is necessary here. He had no doubt the Governor would [illegible] in his Message, and was satisfied Pennsylvania would settle the question as [illegible] Erie.

[illegible] of Pennsylvania said that the subject should not have been brought here at all, as it was [illegible] before the western district of that state. The courts have ample jurisdiction.—The facts were simply these: The Rail Road [illegible] through the county of Erie, and a company was authorized by law to build a road at a [illegible] 4 feet 8½ inches. In defiance of this law the company laid down six feet gauge, and therefore was the [illegible].

He thought there would not be the slightest difficulty in enforcing decree of court. The proceedings of the Indianapolis meeting were based on a entire misapprehension.

After some unimportant business, House adjourned.

[illegible]—We have dates from Portland to the 14th ult.

The Portland people manifest considerable indignation at the resolution of the ocean steamers to stop at St. Helens.

Some of the Oregon papers begin to lean toward the Maine liquor law.

An attempt will be made to change the seat of government.

The rainy season commenced about the 5th, and the Willamette had risen.

About 1,560 emigrants, with 550 wagons, took a new route to the head of Willamette Valley, got lost, and suffered severely. Several died of exhaustion and starvation, it is not known exactly how many. Within 24 hours after the news reached the settlements 20,000 lbs of flour were on the way to aid them, and within 8 days there were 95 packed animals, 23 loaded wagons, 290 head of cattle sent out. All the emigrants are now safe.

Fire.—We stop the press to announce that the [illegible] of Mr. Webb, at the Conant Mills [illegible] miles from this village, was destroyed by fire this (Friday) morning, between 7 and 8 o'clock, together with all its contents. An infant child of Mr. W., who was lying in its cradle at the time, was badly burned. The origin of the fire is not known, but is supposed to have caught from the stove-pipe. The loss is not ascertained, but it must be severe, as comparatively nothing was saved. No insurance.—Stevens Point Pinery, Dec 24th.

Big Business in Big Hogs.—Messrs. S. D. [illegible] & Co. purchased yesterday 113 hogs averaging 271 lbs each—total, 30,624 lbs. One hog, [illegible] of John Search, of the town of Racine, weighed 547 12 lbs.

Joseph Rector, of the town of Walworth, Walworth county, brought in from his own farm, on [illegible] ten hogs, weighing 3704 : 12 lbs—the [illegible] weighed 318 : 11; the heaviest, 432.—Average 370 : 4-10.

The price paid yesterday was $3,75a4,56.—Racine Advocate, 29th inst.

Removal.—The Journal office has been removed to the fourth story of Gov. Farwell's Model Block, fronting the Capitol square on Pinckney street. These rooms for pleasantness of location [illegible] not excelled in the State.—Madison [illegible]

[illegible]—Our citizens are enjoying the first [illegible] of the season. The snow fell yesterday [illegible] to the depth of about six inches, [illegible] much as we had at any one time [illegible]

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, [illegible] Dr. C. M. Jackson, are justly reckoned among [illegible] most valuable medicines. In cases of dyspepsia [illegible] strengthening the tone of the Stomach [illegible] the digestive powers, and giving ruddy health [illegible] and brightness to the eye. There are thousands in [illegible] community who can testify to their virtues [illegible] will hereafter add their testimony.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

[illegible] of the value of this popular [illegible] of the public. A friend of the [illegible] on the Pacific Rail Road, told him the [illegible] would not be without it on his section [illegible] whatever. He finds constant use for it [illegible]. The great value of this article has induced [illegible] imitations under different, but similar [illegible] persons who once use Bragg & Co's. liniment [illegible] be deceived by any vile and rascally cheat [illegible] spurious preparation on them.
[illegible] in another column. dec23

[illegible] Ointment and Pills have effected an [illegible] Abscess that the Faculty pronounced [illegible]—Robert Parker, mariner, of Wolsoken, was afflicted with a dreadful abscess in [illegible] two years in a Hospital abroad, and [illegible] at home, without receiving [illegible], and at last was given up by the faculty, [illegible] to be incurable; but after using [illegible] Ointment and Pills for a short time the wound [illegible] healed and his health permanently restored. This can be attested by Mr. Abraham Catlin, and other respectable inhabitants of the parish of Wolsoken.

House.—The Speaker laid before the House a [illegible] from the Supt. of Coast Survey for the [illegible] to consider the propriety of printing [illegible]

Mr. Kendrick rose to present proceedings and [illegible] of a large meeting held at Indianapolis [illegible] the obstruction of travel and commerce by [illegible] of Erie. On account of the distinguished character of the persons who took part in the proceedings and those implicated, he wished the subject brought directly before the House. This is not a question of local interest, nor question between the city of Erie and the Railroad Co. New York and all cities must have an interest therein.

For many days companies of armed men by [illegible] have held and obstructed one of the great channels of commerce and trade between the West and East. If six, seven, or eight hundred [illegible] had invaded our border, and had [illegible] commerce, stopped our mails and [illegible] the travel of our people the [illegible] of the whole country would have at once been attracted. The same section of constitution [illegible] power upon Government to repel [illegible] be directed to suppress insurrection. He [illegible] say whether this movement [illegible] that comes within the provisions of the constitution, but would say that his [illegible] country was interested in having commerce free. He moved that the memorial be referred to the committee on military affairs.

Mr. M[illegible] remarked that the Legislature of Pennsylvania was about to assemble and would [illegible] take the matter into consideration so far as [illegible] is concerned. No action therefore is necessary here. He had no doubt the Governor would [illegible] it in his Message, and was satisfied Pennsylvania would settle the question as related to Erie.

[illegible] of Pennsylvania said that the subject should not have been brought here at all, as it was now before the western district of that state. Those courts have ample jurisdiction.—The facts were simply these: The Rail Road passes through the county of Erie, and a company was authorized by law to build a road at a [illegible] inches, in defiance of this law the company laid down six feet gauge, and therefore [illegible]

He thought there would not be the slightest difficulty in enforcing decree of court. The proceedings of the Indianapolis meeting were based on an entire misapprehension.

After some unimportant business, House adjourned.

Oregon.—We have dates from Portland to the 11th.

The Portland people manifest considerable indignation at the resolution of the ocean steamers to stop at St. Helens.

Some of the Oregon papers begin to lean toward the Maine liquor law.

An attempt will be made to change the seat of government.

The rainy season commenced about the 5th, and the Willamette had risen.

About 1,500 emigrants, with 550 wagons, took a new route to the head of Willamette Valley, [illegible], and suffered severely. Several died of [illegible] and starvation, it is not known exactly how many. Within 24 hours after the news reached the settlements 20,000 lbs of flour were on the way to aid them, and within 8 days there were 95 packed animals, 23 loaded wagons, 290 head of cattle sent out. All the emigrants are now safe.

Fire.—We stop the press to announce that the dwelling house of Mr. Webb, at the Conant Mills two miles from this village, was destroyed by fire this (Friday) morning, between 7 and 8 o'clock, together with all its contents. An infant child of Mr. W. who was lying in its cradle at the time, was badly burned. The origin of the fire is not known, but is supposed to have caught from the stove-pipe. The loss is not ascertained, but it must be severe, as comparatively nothing was saved. No insurance.—Stevens Point Pinery, Dec. 24th.

Big Business in Big Hogs.—Messrs. S. D. Church & Co. purchased yesterday 113 hogs averaging 321 lbs each—total, 30,624 lbs. One hog bought of John Search, of the town of Raymond, weighed 547 12 lbs.

Joseph Keeter, of the town of Walworth Walworth county, brought in from his own farm, on [illegible], ten hogs, weighing 3704 : 12 lbs—the lightest weighed 318 : 11; the heaviest, 432.—average 370 : 4-10.

The price paid yesterday was $3,75a4,56.—Racine Advocate, 29th inst.

Removal.—The Journal office has been removed to the fourth story of Gov. Farwell's Model Block, fronting the Capitol square on Pinckney street. These rooms for pleasantness of location are not excelled in the State.—Madison Democrat.

[illegible] HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, [illegible] by Dr. C. M. Jackson, are justly reckoned among the most [illegible] medicines. In cases of dyspepsia [illegible] strengthening the tone of the Stomach [illegible] the digestive powers, and giving ruddy health [illegible] to the eye. There are thousands in this community who can testify to their virtues [illegible] will hereafter add their testimony.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

Every day new evidences of the value of this popular [illegible] of the public. A friend of the [illegible] on the Pacific Rail Road, told him the [illegible] would not be without it on his section [illegible] whatever. He finds constant use for it [illegible]. The great value of this article has induced [illegible] worthless imitations under different, but similar [illegible] persons who have use Bragg & Co's. liniment [illegible] not be deceived by any vile and rascally cheat [illegible] spurious preparation on them. [illegible]—The Speaker laid before the House a [illegible] from the Sup't. of Coast Survey for the [illegible] the propriety of printing [illegible].

Mr. Kendrick rose to present proceedings and [illegible] of a large meeting held at Indianapolis [illegible] obstruction of travel and commerce by [illegible] of Erie. On account of the distinguished character of the persons who took part in the [illegible] and those implicated, he wished the [illegible] directly before the House. This is not [illegible] of local interest, nor question between the city of Erie and the Railroad Co. New York and all [illegible] must have an interest therein.

For many days companies of armed men by [illegible] have held and obstructed one of the great [illegible] of commerce and trade between the West and East. If six, seven, or eight hundred [illegible] had invaded our border, and had [illegible] commerce, stopped our mails [illegible] the travel of our people the [illegible] of the whole country would have at once [illegible]. The same section of constitution [illegible] power upon Government to repel invasion [illegible] to suppress insurrection. He would not say whether this movement [illegible] that comes within the provisions of the Constitution, but would say that his [illegible] country was interested in having commerce free. He moved that the memorial be referred to the committee on military affairs.

Mr. Mc[illegible] remarked that the Legislature of Pennsylvania was about to assemble and would doubtless take the matter into consideration so far as Erie is concerned. No action therefore is necessary here. He had no doubt the Governor would mention it in his Message, and was satisfied Pennsylvania would settle the question as [illegible] to Erie.

Ritchie, of Pennsylvania said that the subject should not have been brought here at all, as it was now before the western district of that state. These courts have ample jurisdiction.—The facts were simply these: The Rail Road passes through the county of Erie, and a company was authorized by law to build a road at a gauge of 4 feet 10 inches, in defiance of this law the company laid down six feet gauge, and therefore were the aggressors.

He thought there would not be the slightest difficulty in enforcing decree of court. The proceedings of the Indianapolis meeting were based on an entire misapprehension.

After some unimportant business, House adjourned.

Oregon.—We have dates from Portland to the 14th ult.

The Portland people manifest considerable indignation at the resolution of the ocean steamers to stop at St. Helens.

Some of the Oregon papers begin to lean toward the Maine liquor law.

An attempt will be made to change the seat of government.

The rainy season commenced about the 5th, and the Willamette had risen.

About 1,500 emigrants, with 550 wagons, took a new route to the head of Willamette Valley, [illegible], and suffered severely. Several died of exhaustion and starvation, it is not known exactly how many. Within 24 hours after the news reached the settlements 20,000 lbs of flour were on the way to aid them, and within 8 days there were 25 packed animals, 23 loaded wagons, 290 head of cattle sent out. All the emigrants are now safe.

Fire.—We stop the press to announce that the dwelling house of Mr. Webb, at the Conant Mills [illegible] from this village, was destroyed by fire this (Friday) morning, between 7 and 8 o'clock, together with all its contents. An infant child of Mr. W. who was lying in its cradle at the time, was badly burned. The origin of the fire is not known, but is supposed to have caught from the stove-pipe. The loss is not ascertained, but it must be severe, as comparatively nothing was saved. No insurance.—Stevens Point Pinery, Dec. 24th.

Big Business in Big Hogs.—Messrs. S. D. [illegible] & Co. purchased yesterday 113 hogs averaging 321 lbs each—total, 30,624 lbs. One hog, bought of John Search, of the town of Racine, weighed 547 12 lbs.

Joseph Rector, of the town of Walworth, Walworth county, brought in from his own farm, on one wagon, ten hogs, weighing 3704 : 12 lbs—the lightest weighed 318 : 11; the heaviest, 432.—Average, 370 : 4-10.

The price paid yesterday was $3,75a4,56.—Racine Advocate, 29th inst.

Removal.—The Journal office has been removed to the fourth story of Gov. Farwell's Model Block, fronting the Capitol square on Pinckney street. These rooms for pleasantness of location are not excelled in the State.—Madison Democrat.

Snow.—Our citizens are enjoying the first of the season. The snow fell yesterday evening to the depth of about six inches. [illegible] as much as we had at any one time [illegible].—D.

☞ Our Register and Receiver, are doing the Land Office Business this month, disposing of [illegible] pines to the Lumbermen. The sales [illegible] before the month closes.—Wis-

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, are justly reckoned among our most valuable medicines. In cases of dyspepsia it acts like magic, strengthening the tone of the Stomach, [illegible] the digestive powers, and giving ruddy health to the cheek and brightness to the eye. There are thousands in this community who can testify to their virtues and thousands will hereafter add their testimony.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

Every day new evidences of the value of this popular [illegible] reach the ears of the public. A friend of the Editor, a [illegible] on the Pacific Rail Road, told him the other day that he would not be without it on his section [illegible], whatever. He finds constant use for it [illegible]. The great value of this article has induced [illegible] worthless imitations under different, but similar names [illegible] persons who once use Bragg & Co's. liniment [illegible] be deceived by any vile and rascally cheat [illegible] spurious preparation on them. [illegible] in another column. dec23.

[illegible]tment and Pills have effected an [illegible] Abscess that the Faculty pro[illegible] Robert Parlett, mariner, of Wolsoken, [illegible] afflicted with a dreadful abscess in [illegible] two years in a Hospital abroad, and [illegible] one at home, without receiving [illegible] benefit, and at last was given up by the faculty, [illegible] pronounced him to be incurable; but after using Holloway's Ointment and Pills for a short time the wound was completely healed, and his health permanently restored. This can be attested by Mr. Abraham Catlin, and other respectable inhabitants of the parish of Wolsoken.

RATES OF EXCHANGE REDUCED.
